

Recent Review – Sunday Lunch 23rd March 2014

<http://blog.canedonia.com/>
posted by Tracy Anne McGregor on March 27, 2014

Sunday Lunch – Le Dejeuner du Dimanche

“Secret restaurants” are a concept not normally found in semi-rural communities, better suited, so it would seem, to the bigger cities.

But a new dining experience introduced by Jacques & Sylvia aims to change all that.

Jacques’ Table was where I went for my lunch last Sunday 23rd March and what a truly scrumptious dining experience it was. Located in their home, a typically French table is set up for seating 10, be they a family group, friends or even perfect strangers. The idea is to bring lovers of good food together to experience gastronomic heaven.

From the initial welcoming arrival with an aperitif and a selection of hors d’ houvres, to a buffet style main lunch service, then onto the most mouthwatering desserts, with coffee and petit fours to finish, I can say that this “secret” place I have discovered will be placed on one of Canedonia’s Tours of Scotland as a “must” place to dine.”

*3 St Clare's Court
at The 'Old' School
Sinclairston
Ayrshire KA18 2SA*

*Bookings Tel: 07850 368985
www.jacquestable.co.uk*
